Whakaute (Respect) - Collegiate Value

Attending school is important because at primary school we learn to make friends, work with others, manage our feelings, to read, write and do foundation math. When you miss a Monday or Friday each week, you risk becoming an adult who struggles with writing, reading and using money.

*We grow respect for learning by coming to school every day.
We grow respect for ourselves by achieving goals.
We grow respect for others by learning to work together.*
